P/SEE SUITE[™] INTRANET COMMUNICATIONSFig. 37*STEPS:

1. On-line list is sent to each client
2. Client #1 starts conference
3. SDP BLOB* is sent to client #1
4. Conference name is sent to client #2
5. Client #2 requests conference name SDP BLOB*
- 6 SDP BLOB* is sent to client #2
7. Conference connected

* SDP BLOB contains specific information about each conference

P/SEE SUITE INTERNET COMMUNICATIONS

Clients #2 and #3 can join / create a conference without difficulty because their ISP uses a multicast enabled router.

Client #1 will not be able to join / create a conference because their ISP does not use a multicast enabled router.

P/SEE SUITE INTERNET COMMUNICATIONS SOLUTION

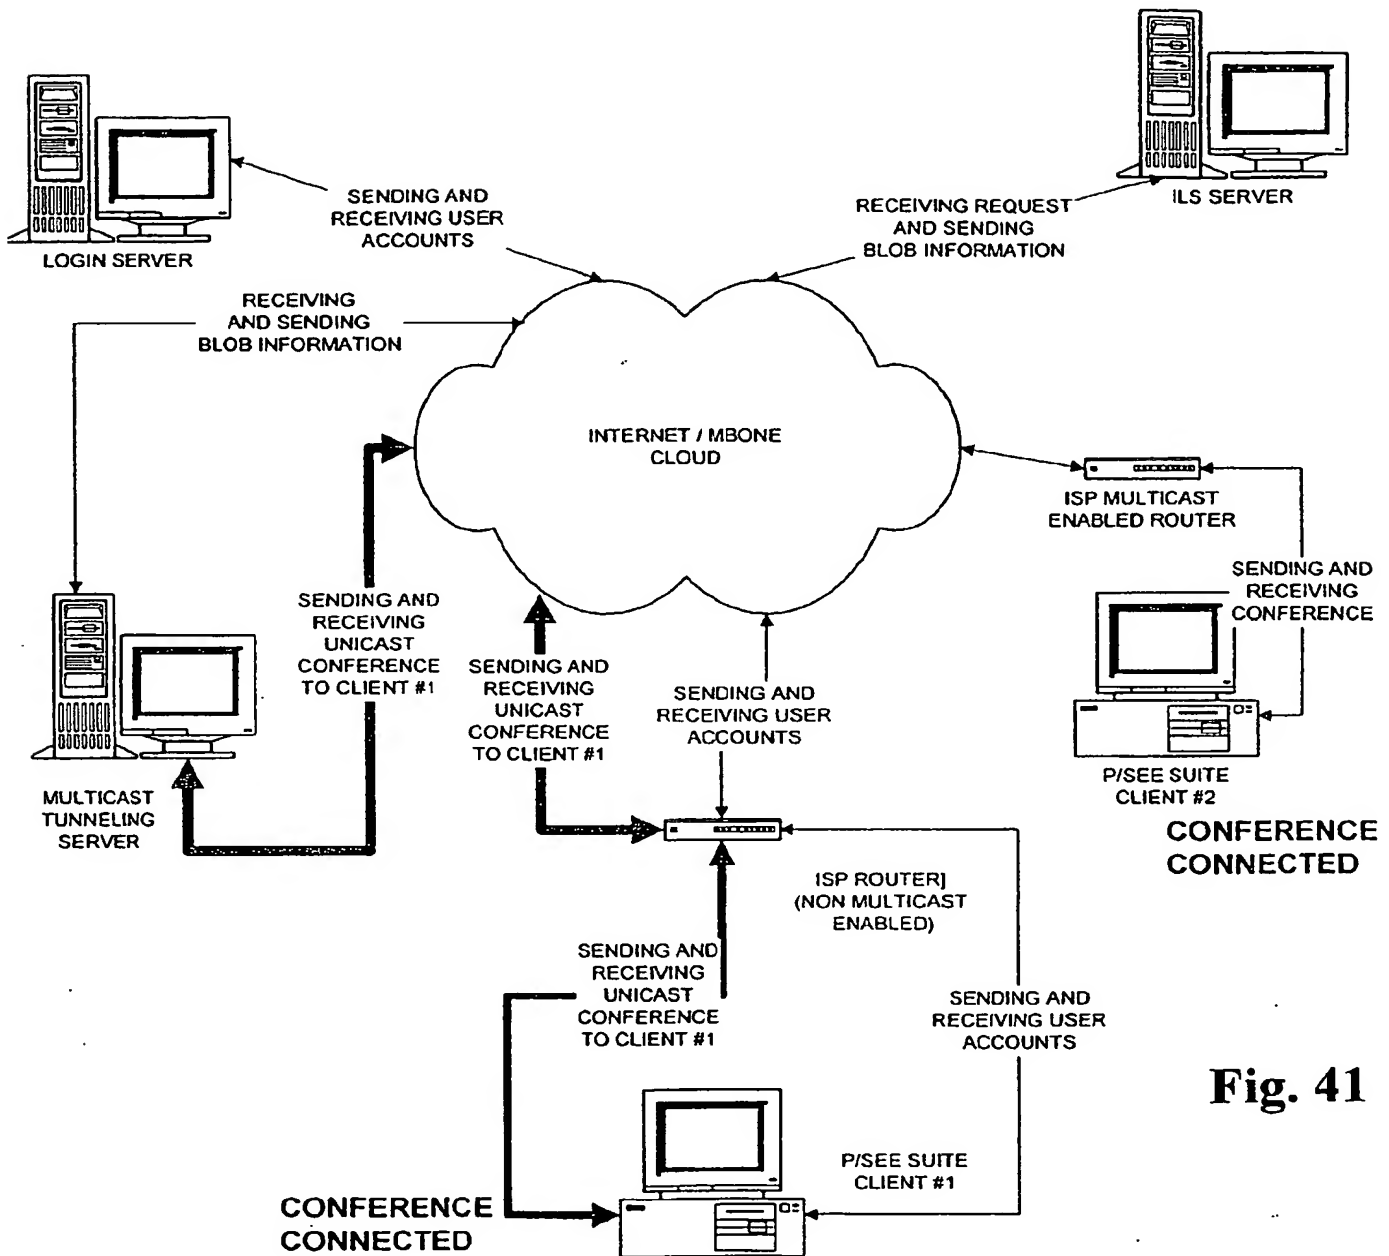

Fig. 41

Client #2 can join / create a conference without difficulty because their ISP uses a multicast enabled router.

Client #1 will be able to join / create a conference via a Multicast Tunneling Server.

The Multicast Tunneling Server receives a multicast IP and converts it to a standard unicast IP allowing non multicasting routers to receive and transmit the single.

MULTICAST

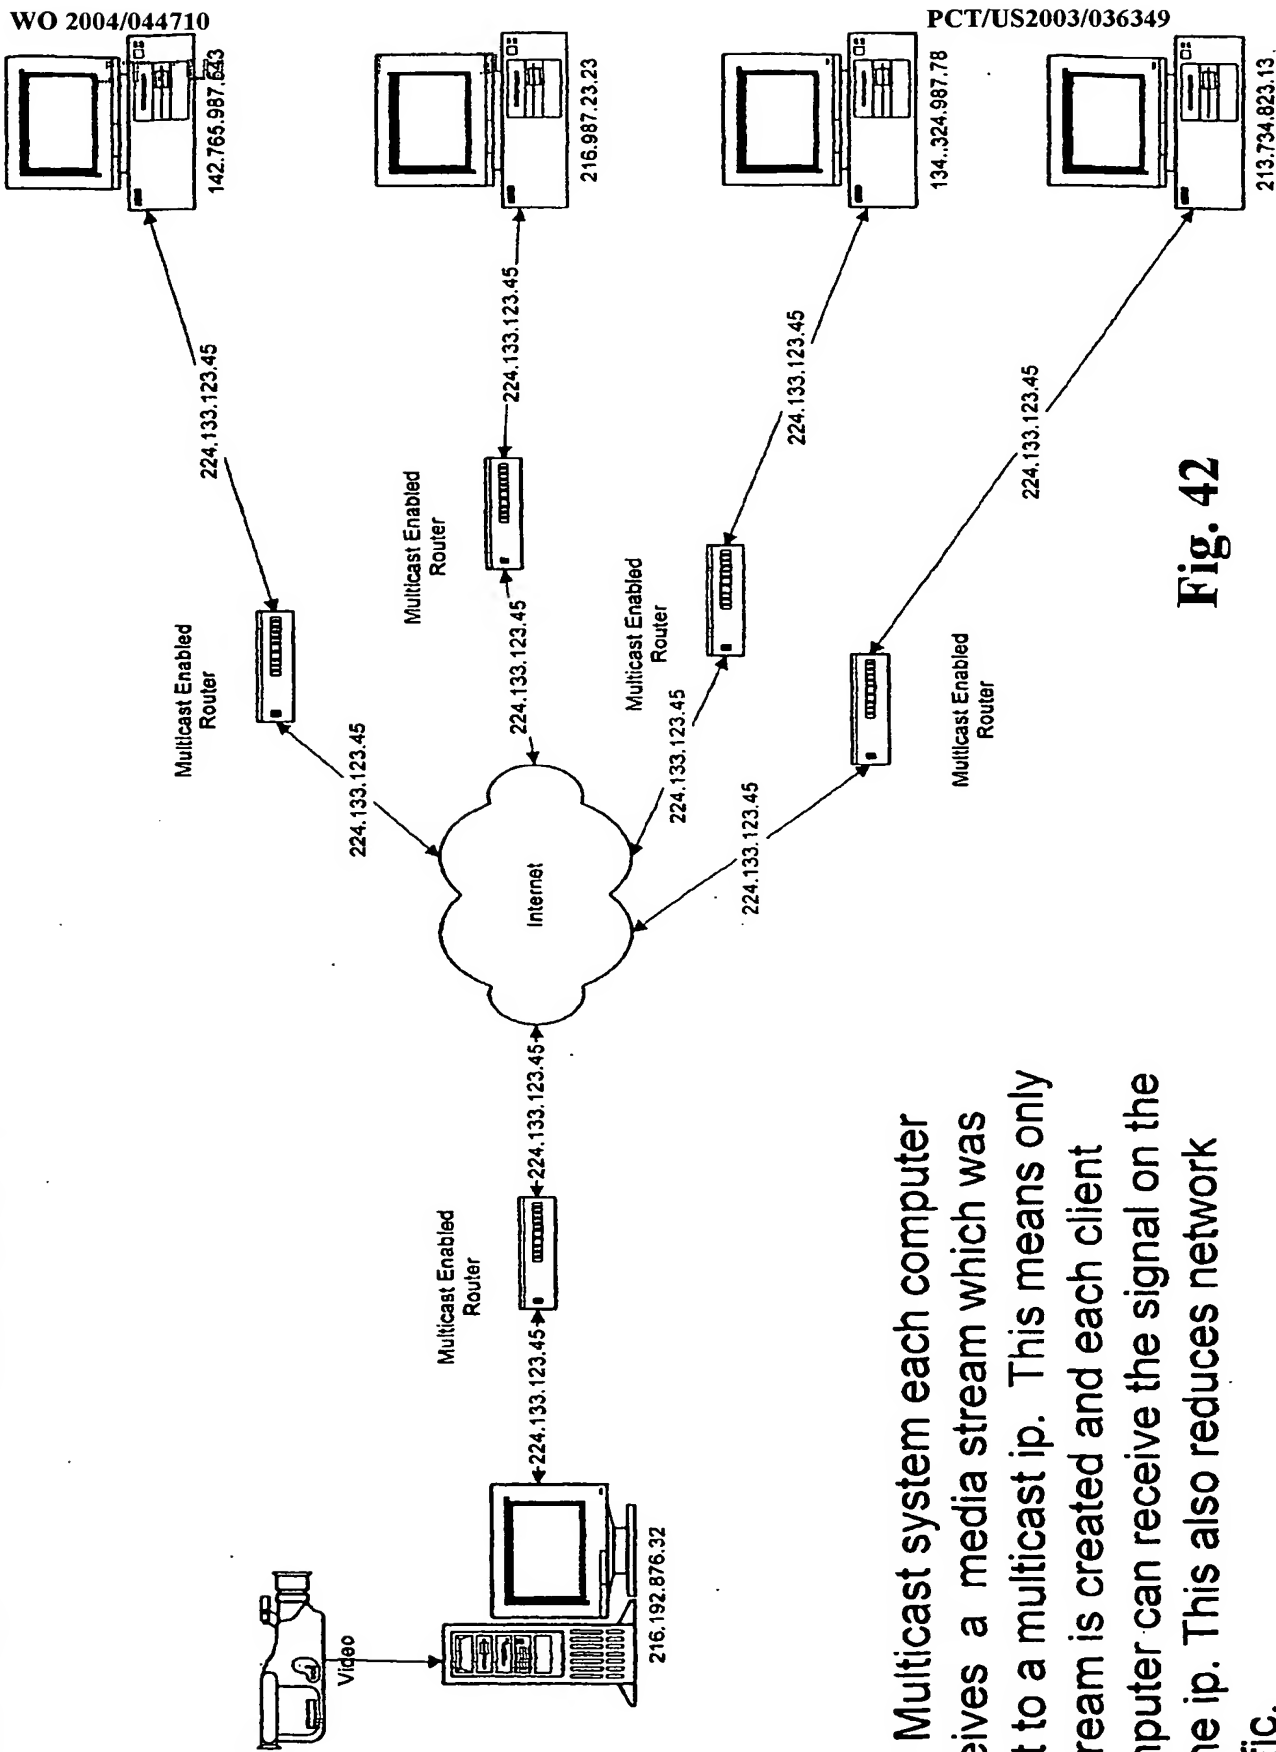

Fig. 42

In a Multicast system each computer receives a media stream which was sent to a multicast ip. This means only 1 stream is created and each client computer can receive the signal on the same ip. This also reduces network traffic.
